12 Yeah, I agree. It would be nice to have. Then we could have multiple people giving input.
▼ By the way, if other DC locals want to add info here, that would be great!!!!

7 Thanks for posting OP. I'm flying into Reagan airport today and will plan on walking primarily to get around. Never been to DC so besides the obvious events I'd love to explore if there is some downtime.

6 Are the parking garages in DC going to be reliable and safe for someone showing up alone? Considering using one and leaving my car there the entire stay.

8 I would think you should be fine. Just consider not putting Trump stuff all over your car, in case an ANTIFA/BLM person parks in the same garage. I will include some Parking links above shortly 12 By the way you can see me on Czech TV at the last rally here...about 1.30 into the video. My mom was born in Plzen by the way.

2 Well it took me 5-6 years (B/w here and reddit) to make an account, but here I am.

Can OP or any pedes in here shoot me a message with advise on best parking and way to get into DC from ny/nj area? Going alone and need somewhere safe to park my car in MD. Thanks in advance!

1 Thank you. PMd. Would driving into DC be fine, or better to park in MD?

1 I would park and ride the Metro in. Alot of street closures.

switch to the metro. Amtrak and Marc reach farther out than the metro system does

1 Do you think more roads will close as time goes on, or will it just be the ones already listed online? I don't want to get stuck in a DC parking garage on the night of the sixth.

▲ pxmose [S] 3 months ago +1 / -0

1 Nope. Unless of course, something big and bad happens, which IMHO is NOT the case. The last two rallies, have been overwhelmingly peaceful and trouble free. ANTIFA only really come out at night and in downtown. You should be fine.

1 I don't know if a map exists, but there are bike trails all over DC (this is how some of the commuters used to beat traffic back in the days when people went in to DC to work) - I know several people who would bike from Silver spring to DC using the Canal path, makes getting in easier when all the streets are blocked (also most major streets have a dedicated bike lane, like L street NW) - DC has the red rent-a-bikes but they may get snatched up quickly...

▲ 4 Are electric scooters still out on the streets? Bird, Lime, Spin?

▼ permalink parent save report block reply

pxmose [S] 3 months ago +4 / -0

▲ 4 Yes, but in the past rallies they are snapped up pretty quickly from what I understand. But you can always go a stop or two on the Metro AWAY from the action and proly find one there. I'm going to add an info link on that in my links now. Thanks!!!
